COFALEC elects Vincent Saingier as President for the period 2022-2024

COFALEC, the association representing the yeast producers in Europe, elected Vincent SAINGIER for a two-year term of office at its 63rd General Assembly in Zurich. He succeeds to Marc CASIER who has held this position for 10 years.

In his speech following his appointment, Vincent SAINGIER praised the work of his predecessor, and also insisted on the importance of an association like COFALEC, in the current context, to support yeast producers in the face of a constantly changing world, with increasing environmental and regulatory constraints.

COFALEC members wish him a lot of success in his new mission at the head of this association.
